CABINET

The Meghalaya Cabinet meeting chaired by Chief Minister Conrad K Sangma yesterday approved the 2021 Forensic Science Laboratory Service Rules. This will enable mobile forensic crime scene units and new forensic staff across districts to strengthen crime detection. The Cabinet also approved amendments to building by-laws, specifically for industrial zones within designated estates across the state. The revised by-laws are intended to address the growing needs of urban expansion, particularly in areas like New Shillong, which require organized, scientific urban planning. The new regulations introduce a structured categorization for industrial zones, specifying requirements, government spokesperson and urban affairs minister Paul Lyngdoh informed.

ASSAM

Union Home Secretary Govind Mohan held a meeting with senior officials of the Assam government in Guwahati yesterday. He reviewed the ULFA, Adivasi, Karbi and Dimasas National Liberation Army accords in presence of Chief Secretary Ravi Kota. The Home Secretary also reviewed the various issues on the rehabilitation of surrendered militants of several groups. Our correspondent reports that during the past few years, several militant groups in Assam laid down arms and joined the mainstream.

SIKKIM

A two-days' Community Radio Awareness Workshop, organized by the Union Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, in partnership with Seeking Modern Applications for Real Transformation (SMART), was launched at Sikkim capital Gangtok yesterday. The objective of the workshop is to raise awareness about community radio stations. The head of DDK Gangtok, Neeraj Pandey said that Sikkim is known for its tourism, peaceful environment, music, monasteries and diversity of languages. Project Director Amit Dwivedi pointed out that the Northeast has only 18 Community Radio stations, with most of them in Assam and Manipur and one in Sikkim named Radio Kanchanjungha. Founder-director of SMART, Archana Kapoor highlighted about the potential of community radio, particularly in the North-East region.
